We want Beazley to be a place where you can truly be you

Attracting diverse talent, building multi-disciplinary teams and creating an inclusive culture and that is true to our values is how we build success now and for the future.

Our values

How do we define our culture?

By our brand and values – being bold, striving for better and doing the right thing. They inspire the way we work from how we engage with our stakeholders and colleagues to how we design our workspaces, treat our customers and behave as a responsible business - to name a few.

We are proud of our culture, and it always scores very high in our employee engagement surveys. These concepts create the foundation of our company strategy.

Beazley around the world 1

Since Beazley began business in 1986 in a small office in Fenchurch Street in the City of London, we've grown steadily in many ways. Our global headquarters are based in London, from where both our Lloyd's managing agency and the syndicates are run. We also have an office in Birmingham, which is the hub for Beazley's UK regional business as well as multinational credit control, project management and IT operations.

Viverra maecenas accumsan lacus vel. Non arcu risus quis varius quam quisque id diam vel. Sit amet cursus sit amet dictum sit amet. Facilisis leo vel fringilla est. Pharetra convallis posuere morbi leo urna molestie at. Elit duis tristique sollicitudin nibh sit amet commodo nulla facilisi.

Patient Privacy

In terms of patient privacy and confidentiality, telehealth consultations need to adhere to the same standards as in-person appointments. That means in each stage of transmitting, storing and sharing data, controls must be in place to ensure that patient information is kept secure, and only shared with those authorised to have access. Human error, malicious attack, tech failure –
